Nursing Centers & Rehabilitation Facilities

Nursing homes provide 24-hour medical care for those who need nursing care but not hospitalization. A registered nurse or licensed practical nurse is on duty, though nurse aides provide most of the hands-on care. Some nursing homes specialize in a certain kind of care, such as care for Alzheimer's disease or rehabilitation.

Nursing homes provide 24-hour medical care for those who need nursing care but not hospitalization. A registered nurse or licensed practical nurse is on duty, though nurse aides provide most of the hands-on care. Some nursing homes specialize in a certain kind of care, such as care for Alzheimer's disease or rehabilitation.

Affordable Housing

Affordable housing is any home, rented or owned, in which costs comprise of less than 30% of the household monthly income. Developers may receive a tax credit from the government (known as the Low Income Housing Tax Credit) if they designate a certain number of their residential units as affordable housing units. These units must be occupied by households making less than 60 percent of the Area Median Income (AMI). Secondly, households who make less than 50 percent of the AMI may qualify to receive government subsidies to keep their rental costs at 30 percent of their income.

Subsidized & Low Income Housing

Subsidized housing refers to apartments or attached housing where the amount of rent is based on the income of the household. The state or federal government usually finances construction or rental costs, and the units are sponsored by non-profit or limited-profit organizations or public housing authorities. Low Income Housing is a special housing category that affords investors special tax treatment in return for a discounted rental rate for eligible applicants. The Low Income Housing Tax Credit is a program of the Internal Revenue Service, where landlords obtain tax benefits for renting to low income households.
